Mr. Wm Liftle, of the Bennettsville Journal, Mr. E. P. Lucas, of the Darlington Democrat, and Mr. Lucas, of the Carendon Press, are in town.

GENERAL GONZALES .- We learn from a private letter that General Gonzales, whose arrest and confinement in Moro Castle within fifteen minutes after his arrival at Havana was erroneously reported a week or two ago, was treated with courtesy and even kindness by General Dulce, and has not been in any way interfered with by the authorities. No person from the steamship was allowed to land until General Dulce had been personally informed of the object of General Gonzales' return to Cuba. Beyond this General Gonzales suffered neither inconvenience

A NUISANCE. Meeting-street was blocked up for more than an hour yesterday afternoon by the crowd which assembled to see Bond, the tight rope walker, put his neck in jeopardy. If the "greatest good of the createst number" is to prevail, and we must put up with this public annoyance, we may at least ask that the President of the Street Railway Company will not again allow his cars to be stopped for an hour to see a tight rope performance. On the Rutledge-street Line there is an occasional interval of twenty minutes between two cars going in the same direction, and if to this is added an hour's delay for the benefit of Professor Bond, it will be necessary to start from the old Postoffice early in the morning to reach Calboun-street by night. REPORTERS' CRUMBS. - Alderman Howard has not declined to remain in the City Council as was reported. He knows which way his interests lie, and we are glad of it. There is a novel parlor fountain to be

Brown & Hyer's window, Broad-street. A gentleman left a black opera cloak in his buggy in Butledge-street yesterday, and in his absence of a few minutes it was stolen.

Captain Davis, of the steamer Emily, on her last trip from Georgetown, received a severe wound in the head from an accidental fall. The case of the colored Magistrate Mishaw, for arresting Alderman Olney, was before the grand jury Professor Bond's receipts have been two hundred and thirty-seven dollars. No wender he says the people of Charleston are generous. The bakery of Captain A. Melchers, formerly lc-cated in King-street, near Broad, has been removed to No. 381 King-street. Mr. R. H. Graham has started a line of omnibuses to run from the corner of Meeting and Line streets to Magnolia. They will run every half hour in the morning, and every quarter of an hour in the after-THE SOUTH CABOLINA RAILBOAD AND THE

COLUMBIA AND AUGUSTA RAILROAD COMPANY .- It is said, and we presume correctly, that Chief Justice Moses and Justice Willard, of the Supreme Court, have agreed that the Supreme Court has not the power to grant the trial in prohibition asked by the South Carolina Railroad to prevent all proceedings under the orders of Judge Platt. The Chief Justice and Justice Willard, as we understand, have distinctly, however, refused to decide any question of legal right, as the same was presented in the discussion before the Supreme Court, and have confined themselves simply to the mode of relief asked for in this case

We understand that at the ensuing term of the Supreme Court the question will be presented in such a form as will render necessary the decision of the question of legal right. And we trust that it will beso, for without expressing any opinion as to the legal question in the case, all will agree that it to far better to have the question of right de-ided, and all he corporators of these two roads to understand their rights and the value of their property.

LIFE INSURANCE. - This subject is but little thought of in this country, particularly in the South, and why it should be so we cannot imagine, for it concerns the poorse well as the rich, the man living on his income, the mechanic, the farmer, the professional man, the merchant—in short, all classes of the community. Times like the present make most manifest the peculiar benefits of this mode of protection. Business is interrupted, men are anxious for the future. Thousands have families growing up around them whose maintenance depends upon the father's life. To all such we would say, go and insure. If you have properly you insure that, why not your life. For nothing is so uncertain as life. And if you are rich you cannot be certain that you will remain so; the rich man of to-day is, constantly from causes beyond his control, poor to-morrow. We therefore may to all who can raise the premium, and few cannot, go and insure your lives for what you can afford; you will never repent it.

These thoughts have suggested themselves on our observing the number of highly respectable and responsible Life Insurance Companies that have agencies in our city. Another appears this morning in our advertising columns-The Ætna, of Hartford Conn.-inferior to none, and offering some striking advantages. We would advise those interested to look into the condition of this company. The agents, Mosers. Huger & Bavenel, will give all the informstion that may be desired.

THE MAYORALITY.

Programme of the Pilisbury Party.

The last issue of the South Carolina Repub ican, after noticing the events of last week in con ection with the Municipal embreglio, including the arrest of Mayor Clark, chalks out the remainder of the Pillsbury programme as follows:

of the Pillsbury programme as follows:

Having soured this rinainal process, one of the next steps will be to secure a mandamus from the Supreme Court compelling Mr. Glark to show cause why, in obedience to the act of the Legislat re, he should not forthwin recate the office of Mavor. As this doe s not require a ivid court, but may be heard in chambers, it will be a matter of but brief delay. In s milar cases a judge has allowed twenty-four hours. In this simply the question of the constitutionality of the recent act of the Legislature will come up. It is merely a fact of law, a. d not a matter of testimony, and the arguments at the lorgest should take only a few hours. As to the decision, there may be little doubt that the constitutionality of the act will be affirmed. The Legislature is the highest law-making body of the State, giving charters for cities or withholding as they choose, regulating elections, &c. In any event, there can be no question as to their right to repeal their own acts, and this bill confirming the late election as certainly repeals the act whereby. Mr. Clark was retained in the office given him by military appointment.

It is reported that a portion of the Acting Board of Aldermen are in favor of yielding to the just demands of the elect of the people, the opposition of this coming from Mr. Clark as the representative of himself and the Democratic party. If four of the Acting Aldermen withdraw from the contrast the board will be left without a "money quorum," or, in other words, they cannot legislate on the fluancial affairs of the city. To this it will surely come at last. The pleasant features of all this game for the Democracy are nearly at an end, and if the will of the majority of the people is still further opposed, we as surely plunge into financial and other difficulties. Mr. Pill: bury is surrely to be Mayor of Charleston. That much is settled. The majority of the people of Charleston have voted and further resolved upon this, the Supreme Court has forced the declaration of his election, and the Legislature and the Governor of the State have declared for it. A post-penement of his installation into office simply tends to secure financial disasters for this city. In view of the justice of the case and the certain disasters attending it justice, and in view of honor, can those members of the Acting Board who were elected on the Board of Mr. Pillsbury, can they fail to see that it is their imperative duty to withdraw immediately from that combination which so thwarts the will of the people, and by withdrawing hasten the righteous extinement of this question?

Since writing the above, we learn that Mr. Cunningham, one of the Acting Board of Aldermen, has resigned. The following it his letter of resignation:

"CHARLESTON, S. C., March 4, 1869.

"Hon. George W. Clark, Acting Mayor:

"Sine—The General Assembly of South Carolina, having annualed the military appointment under which I held my seat in the Acting Board of Aldermen, by an act approved March 1, 1869, I hereby decline serving any further as a member of said Board.

"Very respectfully,

G. I. Cunningham."

There was a called meeting of the so-called Alderen of the Pillsbury party, last night, at the white house in Doughty-street. Certain provisos were dis cussed and issues canvassed preparatory to further iction to-day, when there may be some decided steps taken. The upshot of the gathering last night was that there must be no more delay, and every exer tion made to harmonize the views of the so-called elect and reduce the Acting Board of Aldermen to a powerless remnant of their former self. It is stated that the legal advisor of Mr. Pillsbury has cautioned reticence and a probibition of the publication of contemplated action; yet, notwithstanding this interdiction, the public will be correctly informed through the ingenuity of the ubiquitous press.

A DAY OF SENSATIONS -GREAT EXCITEMENT-IMMENSE CROWDS-HANLON AND BOND .- The oldest inhabitant can scarcely recollect a greater manifes. tation of excitement on the streets of Charleston than that which occurred yesterday. The causes were Banlon and Bond. For months past the public curiosity on the subject of velocipedes has been gradually increasing. Mr. Duc's invention, and his Sunday twinkling through the streets, intensified the general interest, and Hanlon's huge posters, with pictor al illustrations of a velocipede race wrought the excitement up to the highest pitch, ready to break out in any absurdity at the slightest opportunity. The opportunity was not long wanting. An authorized notice appeared in THE NEWS of yesterday morning stating that one of the Hanlons wou'd start with his velocipede at the the corner of Queen and State-streets at twelve M. and give the business men of East Bay and Broad-street the first op-portunity of seeing the new mechanical horse. Long before the appointed hour people gathered in crowds in the neighborhood of the designated starting point and along the proposed route and also on Meeting and King streets. They waited long and patiently-i. e., however impatient many of them were, they showed no signs of it. People within view of the corner of State and Queen street were still gazing intently but wearily on that interesting locality, when all at once the cry was raised that direction at a run. They were, of course, too late. On reaching Meeting-street, they found themselves among the stragglers at the tail-end of the growd running up the street, and seeming to grow denser as it was more distant. They were told that the velocipedes had gone up to the Washington Race Course for a regular run-best three heats in five. They took the cars or incressed their speed on foot, hoping to be in before the end of the fun; but when they reached the corner of Husel and Meeting streets, they saw a small crowd gathered at the door of the Pavilion Hotel, and were informed that the Hanlons had been up to the shell road, taken a run up and down, come back, and gone into the Pavilion to take a drink. Somebody had been badly sold. So much for excitement number one. Excitement number two was equally as great, but in it no body was disappointed. All saw as much as or more than they expected to see. The account of Bond's walking on Saturday from the top of the Pavilion Hotel to the top of the store of Messrs. Strauss, Vance & Co. on a light rope had spread through the city like wild fire, and the announce ment that he would perform the same feat yesterday at three P. M. drew a crowd of not less than five thousand persons to see him. Meeting and Hasel stree's were both blocked for a considerable distance each way for more than an hour, and the plazza of the Charleston Hotel, the veranda of the Pavilion Metel and the windows and roofs of the neigh-boring houses were filled with spectators. Bond performed the feat several times with complete success. At a height of fifty feet over a paved street he performed all the manœuvres usually performed by tight tope dancers in a circus at a height of eight or ten feet over a bed of sawdust. He sat down and got up again, turned somersots over the wire, balauced himself on his back, slipped down and caught with his legs, and did so many wonderful things, that to say he stood on his head in mid air would scarcely be an exaggeration. He concluded his performance by walking across on the rope dressed in a long calico dress, supposed to represen the Grecian Bend, but in reality bearing a very distant resemblance to that striking costume. One was rather reminded of the o'd nursery rhyme, "Whither old womin? Whither so high?

To sweep the cobwebs from the sky!"

In the intervals between his performances Bond would walk around among the crowd and take up a collection, and he no doubt made a good deal or money by his exhibition. The crowd was so great that when it was dispersing Meeting and Hacel streets, especially the former, looked as if long processions were pouring through them. Bond is so well satisfied with his receipts that he says he will stay here the remainder of the week, performing

CLUBS AND STABS .- The following cases were before the Mayor yesterday morning:

D. McKinsey, white, under the influence of liquor nd unable to take proper care of himself. Fined $5.

Henry White, colored. applied for lodgings, which were granted. Discharged. The as Washington, colored, lying down drunk n West-street. Fined $5.

D. Madden, white, same offence. Same fine. John Zanoga reported for keeping his store open on Sunday. Discharged.

John Callington applied for lodging. Granted and discharged. wm. steadman, colored, found sleeping on the Fire-proof Building steps. Discharged. There was a street fight yester lay at half-past three o'clock, at the corn r of Church-street and St. Michael's alley, between Sailio Washington, Nellie Cook and Ann Heyward, three noterious colored girls, who were arrested by Officer Lary.

Richard Fickling, colored, was faught stealing cotton from Mess s. Goldsmith & Sons, Vandue Range. He has been at this nefarious game a long time, and was at last overtaken yesterday, notwithstanding he had a charm in his pocket, and kept him from capture,

THE HANLONS.—The renowned Hanlons gave

Hall. The performance was varied and at times very ineresting. The gymnastic feats were very fine, and surpassed all expectation.

The solo on the barp by Mr. Blamphin showed a complete master of the instrument and was replete with skillful manipulation. The velocipede riding was extraordinary. Mr. Hanlon performed acts of equestrianism on the "Shellton animal," not very inferior to the doings of Jim Robinson on bareback "live stock."

To-night they will appear again in an excellent bill which will show this capital troupe to advantage.

THE STATE COURT-HON. R. B. CARPENTER PRESIDING .- MONDAY, March 8 .- IN THE GENERAL SESSIONS.—The Grand Jury returned true bills against Bol ert Allston and Albert alias Edwir Single ton, indicted for interference with election. The Grand Jury also made the following present ments:

our last presentment.

That a citizen of the county, namely, Mr. H. B. Cliney, was arrested upon a warrant issued by W. H. Mishaw, a magis rate of this county; that the warrant was wholly illegal, and was served, and the arrant was wholly illegal, and was served, and the arrant was wholly illegal, and was served, and the arrant was wholly illegal, and was served.

rant was wholly illegal, and was served, and the arrest made by one who was not by any authority of law entitled to arrest.

That upon Mr. Olney being agree ed, the magistrate who issued the warrant was not in his office to hear the complaint or the evidence for the acquaed, or to make any investigation relative to the case; had left with his clerk a commitment, and instructions to send Mr. Olney to jail.

This commitment was in itself illegal, even if all This commitment was in itself lilegal, even if all the anterior proceedings were legal. Had the commitment actually been made, this would have been the result, that a citizen would have been arrested and incarcerated without legal cause, without legal process, and in clear violation of the law. Of the motives which prompted this active on the part of the magistrate the Grand Jury cannot judge. But whether the action proceeded from ignorance of his daties, or from a wilful disregard and neglect of them, in either event, the magistrate is unfit to 'e trusted with powers so grave, and the exercise of which affects so deeply the security of the citizens, and the grand jury present the case to the court that such action may be taken as will correct the evil.
